

Free Workshops

A service provided by:
FCJ Refugee Centre

BREAKING BARRIERS

Responding to community needs

Training for frontline workers in Toronto that serve non-status and precarious migrant populations.

Following the City motion that was passed last year to open up City services to anyone regardless of status, several gaps and disservices have been identified.

This program is possible thanks to the support of:

208 Oakwood Ave. Toronto, ON Canada
M6E 2V4

Who will benefit from this program

Library workers, city support staff, shelter workers, settlement workers, community workers, settlement workers in schools, etc.

Benefits

-
- *Raise awareness about non-status and precarious migrant communities
 - *Improve and enhance the services that the city of Toronto provides to marginalized populations
 - *Access to crucial up to date training materials and educational resources
-

How to request a training

To schedule a workshop contact Carolina Teves :
cteves@fcjrefugeecentre.org

FCJ Refugee Centre

Walking with Uprooted People